Train the Trainer

NCF Offers dynamic, hands-on instructor training to provide you with complete instructor materials and enhanced skills to train dads in your community. (more...)

Direct Delivery Workshops & Presentations

The National Center for Fathering will deliver a fathering training program for you. All of NCF's curricula are research-based and include the opportunity to complete a fathering profile, designed to give you feedback on your fathering based on our national sample of dads. (more...)

Women's Training

Designed for women who work with families, this highly rated program answers the question social service providers are asking about families today... "Why bring dad into the picture?" (more...)

On-Line Father Training

Welcome! In keeping with the National Center's commitment to make father training available to all dads, we are providing on-line versions of one of our most popular father training profiles and curricula. (more...)

Small Groups

NCF has developed curricula using small groups to enhance a father's acquisition and application of fathering skills. By being part of a small group, a father is placed in one of the most optimal settings possible to learn new fathering behaviors. Small groups provide a powerful learning environment, promote long term retention and support behavior change. What individuals do in a group today, they are able to do alone tomorrow! (more...)
